

PJ Hall (Clemson) Sophomore 6'10 235 Forward (11/12/21 vs Wofford)

PJ Hall and the Clemson Tigers looked good tonight as they got the 76-68 win over Wofford. PJ finished with 22 points on 6-8 from the field and 3-4 from behind the 3pt line. Hall also collected 8 rebounds in the win.

Offensively, Hall was impressive with his ability to shoot the ball from behind the 3p line in Pick n Pop actions, he has a quick and high release. He also showed great touch around the rim. He made a nice hook shot in the paint late in the second half.

Defensively, he showed he could move his feet laterally as he got switched off onto guards in Pick n Roll coverage. He was also good as an interior defender protecting the rim, blocking and altering shots.

Overall, Hall's unique versatility and skillset as a scorer for a big makes him very difficult to guard. He also went 7 for 10 from the line, displaying his great touch on his release. Hall should continue to have a big role with Clemson while playing over 30 mins per game as a sophomore for the Tigers.

Written by: Nate Koesel

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/nate-koesel-a88423179/>