

David Collins (2/10/21 vs Houston)

Collins was able to get into the paint on straight-line drives and finished well in the lane; he utilized the jump-stop well to stay on balance and power through awaiting defenders. He was much more active defensively, jumping to help on gap drives and forcing a steal on a sideline out-of-bounds play, pushing in transition for an easy layup on the other end. He also did a good job chasing down loose balls and long rebounds, securing additional possession for his team.

Overall, he played with good energy as the game got farther out of hand. I would like to see him play with more effort throughout the game.

Written by: Nate Koesel

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/nate-koesel-a88423179/>