

Tyson Etienne #1 (Live 3/10/2022 vs Tulsa)

Tyson Etienne had a very solid game against Tulsa this weekend during the American conference tournament however he seems to shoot the ball way too much. This season alone Etienne is shooting 38% from the 3pt line which isn't too good in my opinion. In this game alone he shot 25% from 3pt and shot 5-18 for FG. I wasn't impressed with his performance against Tulsa even though he had 14 points. He was able to make some nice passes which I was surprised with but overall, I didn't see anything that stood out about him.

Tyson Etienne finished the game shooting 5-18 FG, 2-8 3PT and had 5 REB, 5 AST, 1 STL, 2 TO and 14 PTS.

Final Thoughts

I did not like how he played against Tulsa and personally could not see him ever making it to the NBA. He is only a sophomore, so he has a lot of work to do in order to make progress to possibly making it to the league. But as of right now don't get your hopes up with Etienne he shoots the ball way too much for his shooting ability.
